

MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY
Make sure you post news before school starts! Welcome families to SchoolCNXT or let them know about your classroom!		Post a syllabus or plan for the semester so guardians know what topics you'll be covering and what the expectations for their children are.		Post weekly or daily assignments as news items in SchoolCNXT. Starting now will let families know what to expect!
	Have a student who was especially helpful during the first week? Send a message to their family!		Do you recommend that students have books or other materials for your class? Post about local discount bookstores or websites where students can purchase copies on sale!
Does your school have a parent-teacher night coming up? Post an event to let parents know the details!		There are always some shy students at the beginning! Message their adults to ask how they are talking about school at home.		Do you sponsor a club, sport, or extra-curricular activity? Post news to the school to let guardians (and students!) know that it is available to them!
	Have a student or two who you are worried may be at risk of slipping behind? Send their guardians a message to express concern and let them know about tutoring and other resources available.		If there is a guardian who did not attend your parent night, message them to set up a time to meet or give them more information!
Do you have a guest reader or volunteer program in your classroom? Post news about it to solicit volunteers!		How was the first month?! Applaud your class' successes and the potential for the rest of the school year in a celebratory news post!
